Café L'Arté is a brand-new immersive musical set in real time in a coffee shop. For five years Emily has run the shop on her own since losing the love of her life. She has had to shelve plans they shared of starting a theatre company. One day a customer walks in and asks if he can add his business card to the notice board. Emily is amused by his job description of 'psychic songwriter'. After initially dismissing such nonsense she finds, in the next hour and many songs later, that her life has been changed forever.
